Feedback Forms Period 1

Carlos Schaap García

"You are a great team worker and that makes me very comfortable while I work with you. Please don't change!"

Nick Grahovskis

"David you are a talkative and kind person, when it comes to helping others, you help everyone. However, when it comes to working on projects, being a bit more focused and responsible would help us progress more smoothly. Your jokes add fun in to our meetings, staying more serious during work time could help us make faster progress and improve the quality of work."

Feedback Forms Period 2

Bence Mohr

"I have noticed that you consistently deliver your work well ahead of time and maintain high quality. This makes me feel confident in your reliability and trust in your ability to handle tasks independently. Your precision and dependability ensure that our project stays on track and is always on time. I encourage you to keep up being reliable and consistent in your work."

Kyan Jeuring

"I know we didn't work closely on the project since I was responsible for the Windows Server and you were focused on the Ubuntu Server, but I still noticed the excellent work you did. It was clear that you handled your tasks really well, and I'm glad to see the effort you put in. I also appreciated the way you contributed to the team's energy, you brought a great atmosphere to our group. It really boosted morale and made working together more enjoyable. Moving forward, I hope you continue combining your skills with that positivity, it's a great combination!"

Eliza Horváth

"I noticed that you consistently displayed confidence in what you were doing and also helped others with anything if needed. This created a positive environment among team members, where teammates felt supported and encouraged. Continuing this, you will stay a strong team player and also maintaining high standards for your individual contributions."

Peter Kapsiar

"David, I can see that you were always actively involved, contributing ideas and participating in discussions. You were also very observant, taking inspiration from others and using that to improve your own work. I think this is great because it shows commitment to the team's goal and your will to improve. It made me feel confident that you were invested in both your growth and the team project. Your active engagement encouraged the others to collaborate more effectively. I would like to see you to keep up your enthusiasm for the future but I would also like to encourage you to not be afraid to take the lead on some activities yourself."

Sanduni Thathsarani Pinpura Dewage

"I noticed during this project your great dedication and you did your role and works in the Ubuntu part of the project correctly and on time. It made our project is finishing before deadline. So I hope you will continue these qualities in the future and it would be great to the group."

Ugochukwu Ndiogazili

"I have worked with you twice on a project as a team member, and I can say that you're a great team member who works hard for the team in making research and you also help in reminding the team the deadline for each task."
